Making life overseas a snap

By Nathan Van Schaik

For Beate Williams, she knows what it's like to be a stranger in a strange land. Born in East Germany, and raised in Darmstadt, she spent a portion of her life in the U.S.

Now, as Relocation Program Manager for the Schweinfurt community, she's taking newcomers beneath her wing and showing them the ropes of Schweinfurt.

Her five day orientation covers everything from adjusting to life in the military to saving money in the local economy.

"She's informative but fun," said one attendee.

Beate Williams (white pants) escorts SNAPS attendees Thursday, June 6 through the streets of downtown Schweinfurt. Schweinfurt Newcomer Awareness Program for Spouses, or SNAPS, is a five day orientation geared toward newcomers. "The purpose is to get oriented to military life and the local community, learn the culture and how to spend money wisely," Williams said.

Recycle that old cell phone

conservation tip #24

Most cell phones that are no longer needed are still functional. Recycle them! Cell phones contain highly valuable raw materials and functional parts can be reused. The crucial point is that cell phones need to be collected separately! Just bring your unwanted cell phone to a recycle center at USAG Schweinfurt.
